SkyMaster Pro

END USER LICENSE AGREEMENT

Draft for legal review • No version number • One computer per purchase

1. Parties and acceptance

This End User License Agreement (Agreement) is between Solomon A Roberson, doing business as Supreme Search (Licensor) and the person or entity purchasing or using SkyMaster Pro (Customer). Please read this Agreement before installation. By selecting “I accept” during installation, Customer agrees to its terms. If Customer does not agree, Customer should not install or use the Software and should consult the refund policy disclosed at purchase.

2. License grant

Subject to compliance with this Agreement and payment of the applicable one-time purchase price, Supreme Search grants Customer a perpetual, limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to install and use one copy of SkyMaster Pro (Software) on one computer at a time for lawful personal or commercial audio-production purposes. The Software is licensed, not sold. No recurring subscription, license key, online activation, or account is required for normal operation.

3. One-computer installation and replacement

Each purchase permits installation and use on one computer at a time. Customer may move the Software to a replacement computer if Customer first uninstalls or ceases use of the prior installation and deletes copies from the prior computer to the extent reasonably possible. Simultaneous use on two computers requires a second license. A single archival backup copy may be retained for recovery, but may not be used as an additional active installation.

4. Restrictions on proprietary software

Except as permitted by applicable law or the licenses of third-party components, Customer may not reproduce the Software beyond the permitted installation and backup, sell, resell, sublicense, rent, lease, lend, share, publish, upload, or distribute the SkyMaster Pro application, its installer, or proprietary documentation to another person without prior written permission from Supreme Search. Customer may not remove applicable proprietary notices. These restrictions do not apply to third-party components to the extent their separate licenses grant additional rights, and do not limit rights that applicable law makes non-waivable.

5. Ownership and third-party components

Supreme Search and its licensors retain their respective intellectual-property rights in SkyMaster Pro. The Software may include FFmpeg, ffprobe, ffplay, and other third-party components. Those components are owned by their respective copyright holders and are governed by their own licenses, not by the proprietary restrictions in this Agreement. FFmpeg components may be licensed under the GNU Lesser General Public License (LGPL) or GNU General Public License (GPL), depending on the exact build. Applicable license texts, notices, source-code access, and other required materials must accompany or be made available with the distributed build as required by those licenses. Nothing in this Agreement restricts rights to copy, modify, reverse engineer for permitted purposes, or redistribute those third-party components where their licenses allow it.

6. Customer audio and output

Customer retains any rights Customer already holds in imported audio and exported or mastered files. Supreme Search claims no ownership in Customer recordings solely because they are processed with the Software. Customer is responsible for having the rights and permissions needed to use, modify, and distribute audio content.

7. Offline operation and data

The Software is designed for local offline mastering and does not require internet access for normal operation. This Agreement is not a privacy policy. Any separate website purchase, download, analytics, payment, or support data practices should be disclosed in an appropriate privacy notice.

8. Updates, support, and refunds

Updates and support are provided only to the extent expressly described at purchase or separately agreed in writing. A one-time license does not guarantee free future major releases or lifetime support. Refund eligibility and procedures are governed by the refund terms disclosed to Customer at the time of sale, subject to mandatory consumer-protection laws.

9. Warranty disclaimer

TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE SOFTWARE IS PROVIDED “AS IS” AND “WITH ALL FAULTS,” WITHOUT EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES, INCLUDING IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, AND NON-INFRINGEMENT. THIS DISCLAIMER DOES NOT LIMIT RIGHTS OR WARRANTIES THAT CANNOT LAWFULLY BE EXCLUDED, OR ANY EXPRESS WRITTEN WARRANTY ACTUALLY PROVIDED BY SUPREME SEARCH.

10. Limitation of liability

TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, SUPREME SEARCH WILL NOT BE LIABLE FOR INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, CONSEQUENTIAL, EXEMPLARY, OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES, INCLUDING LOST PROFITS OR LOST AUDIO OR DATA. SUPREME SEARCH’S AGGREGATE LIABILITY ARISING OUT OF THE SOFTWARE OR THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT EXCEED THE AMOUNT CUSTOMER PAID FOR THE SOFTWARE. THESE LIMITATIONS DO NOT APPLY TO THE EXTENT PROHIBITED BY LAW, INCLUDING LIABILITY THAT CANNOT LAWFULLY BE LIMITED.

11. Termination

Supreme Search may terminate this license for a material breach that Customer fails to cure within 30 days after receiving written notice, where cure is possible. Upon termination, Customer must stop using and remove proprietary copies of the Software, except where applicable law or third-party licenses provide otherwise. Provisions intended to survive termination, including ownership, disclaimers, and limitations, will survive to the extent lawful.

12. Governing law and severability

This Agreement is governed by the laws of the State of North Carolina, United States, without regard to conflict-of-law principles, except where mandatory laws applicable to Customer provide otherwise. If any provision is unenforceable, the remaining provisions remain effective to the extent legally permitted.
